

Karrlin Field

Memorial Scholarship Fund Donation Form

“You have to be happy every second you breathe.” - Kararli

Karrlin Field, known to all as Kararli, was an aspiring and talented writer of stories, poetry, and novels as well as a designer of imaginative and dramatic computer games. The Karrlin Field Memorial Fund provides financial support through scholarships to young women pursuing a college education in computer game development and design at the University of Advancing Technology in Tempe, Arizona — the university that Kararli had dreamed of attending.

Kararli was only 17 when she died of cystic fibrosis in 2004 but she left behind an impressive amount of creative work. Kararli’s fund honors her life, her creative works and her legacy by encouraging young women to follow their creative dreams, as Kararli would have wanted to. To learn more about Kararli’s life and works, please visit www.kararli.com.

Yes, I would like to celebrate Kararli’s life by making a tax-deductible contribution to her Memorial Scholarship Fund. Please acknowledge my gift of $_____, which is enclosed.
